The delegates of Accomac and Northampton, and of Accomac and Elizabeth city, meet in joint convention at Accomac C. H., next Monday, ostensibly for the purpose of nominating delegates to the Constitutional Convention soon to assemble in Virginia, but really for the purpose of endorsing nominations which have already been made. The fact, however, that they have been selected beforehand for us, will not detract from the pleasure which it will give the delegates from Accomac in making them their candidates for the important positions to which they have been chosen. The ability and fitness in every respect of Judge Kendall, of Northampton, and of Col. Tabb, of Elizabeth city, as members of the Constitutional Convention, indeed, are so well recognized in Accomac, that it would have been a pleasure to our people to have had the privilege of nominating them first and of presenting them as candidates for endorsement by the people of their respective localities. That they will accept the nominations which will be so heartily tendered them, next Monday, it is hoped, is beyond all question, but as Col. Tabb, if reported correctly, may not, it is important that all of the delegates of

His death day as one of the representatives of vention, and with his ripe knowledge one of the most valuable members of that body.

The Press of the State generally contain complimentary notices of him, and all agree that he was a man of great ability and did the State much good service.

"From all indications the Swanson people are determined to wage a war of extermination against their enemies. It is stated unofficially that those State officers who are known to favor Mr. Montague have been warned that their heads will come off if they do not mend their ways very speedily."

The above extract is from the Richmond letter in Tuesday's Virginian-Pilot and is copied by us to show the temper of the few, who would run the affairs of the State, regardless of the wishes of the people. That the game of "taking off political heads," though is not so one-sided as they imagine, we believe, they will find out when the people have had an op portunity to speak in the Guberna torial contest.

Rev. W. F. Dunaway, a Baptist minister, widely known throughout the State, has been nominated as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention and in accepting the nomination declared himself, "in favor of further limiting the election franchise, but as opposed to the wholesale disfranchisement of the negro as opposed to an educational qualification, but in favor of doubling the capitation tax and making its payment a prerequisite for voting. He favors also a thorough reorganization

The members of the State Democratic Committee, which met in seasion in the city of Richmond last Thursday night, had not agreed as to the place of holding the State convention, according to our latest adthe lead and will probably be selected. The basis of representation in that body, it has practically been decided, will be one delegate for each 100 votes cast for Bryan, giving the convention 1,460 delegates.

Up to this time sixty-five nomina tions for the constitutional convention have been made by the Democrates of the State, or are certain to be nominated, and at least four Republicans and Independents are already in the field. One of the Democratic nominees, Mr. D. W. Spencer, of Henry county, has positively declined the nomination tendered him by the people of the county with practical unanimity, and another convention has been called to meet at Martinsville on May 1st to name a new candidate. The nomination of Hon. Eugene Withers, ex-senator, and Hon. James L. Tredway, ex-senator and now jadge, is practically assured as the result of the mass-conventions held in Pittsylvania county Saturday. Up to this time sixty-five nomina

Cultivation of Sweet Potatoes.

At a late meeting of the Horticul-tural Society, held at Middletown, Del, in discussing the cultivation of sweet potatoes, Mr. C. G. Brown strongly objected to the use of barn-yard or stable manure. He said, the use of barn-yard or stable manure will produce unreliable, stringy and un-even-size potatoes. He advocated the even-size potatoes. He advocated the use of artificial manure only, and recommended the following formula: He said that land that will produc 20 barrels of corn to the acre, by ap-plying 600 lbs acid phosphate, 200 lbs. nitrate of soda, 200 lbs. nitrate of potash, making ton fertilizer, will produce from 400 to 600 baskets of produce from 400 to 600 baskets of potatoes, equal say to 100 barrels. The nitrate of soda should be used in the drills broadcast when the potatoes are first forming. Mr. Killen said, that he had used this applica-

DAUGHERTY, SATURDAY, MAY 4th,

Said land is in a good state of cultivation and is improved by a dwelling in good repair and all necessary outbuildings.

The oyster shore on the land, containing several acres of fine oyster planting grounds, adds greatly to its value and makes it especielly desirable to those wanting it either for a home or an investment.

Terms will be liberal and made known on the day of sale.

Ornaments, Hardware, Paints, Oil, Cook, Ranges and Heating If you want a nice silk shirt waist or anything in the way of new goods don't fail to call on us. No trouble to show goods.
